EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

I've recently been looking for a job like this. I am motivated to build a career, to gain more experience and knowledge in this field of work, and I believe I can contribute a lot to your company. From the previous jobs, I acquired and developed my personal skills to work in a team, to show creative thinking and to react quickly to changes in the working atmosphere and especially to be organized. Together with these skills and the skills I acquire on a Web Development course in Software Academy, I think I'm the right candidate for you.
